

筑波大学
University of Tsukuba

Raising Awareness on Nature-Culture Linkages Roundtable on the Role of Capacity Building

Organized by

The UNESCO Chair on Nature-Culture Linkages in Heritage Conservation
University of Tsukuba

The UNESCO Chair on Nature-Culture Linkages at the University of Tsukuba organizes capacity building workshops yearly since 2016 for the Asia-Pacific region. The first and second workshops entitled "Agricultural Landscapes" and "Sacred Landscapes" respectively have shown the need to work further on raising awareness on the importance of linking nature and culture in heritage sites. The UNESCO Chair will hold a roundtable with focus on capacity building and where to capture ideas and opinions from State Parties' delegates, especially mid-career and young professionals, in and beyond the Asia-Pacific region. The purpose is to discuss on the role of capacity building and institutions of learning, what are the gaps and needs locally, in order to contribute further in the creation of platforms for the exchange between cultural and natural heritage practitioners.

Join us at the Advisory Bodies Side Events Space on Monday June 25, 2018 at 14.10

筑波大学
University of Tsukuba

The UNESCO Chair

The UNESCO Chair on Nature-Culture Linkages in Heritage Conservation at the University of Tsukuba, Japan, hosts Capacity Building Workshops on Nature-Culture Linkages in Heritage Conservation (CBWNCL) in Asia and the Pacific since 2016.

Objective of the workshops:

To build capacities in theory and practice on the conservation and management of landscapes while exploring nature-culture linkages.

Target audience

Heritage practitioners from Asia and the Pacific working in the culture and nature sectors.

Themes

- Agricultural Landscapes - CBWNCL 2016
- Sacred Landscapes - CBWNCL 2017
- Disasters and Resilience - CBWNCL 2018
- Mixed Cultural and Natural Sites - CBWNCL 2019

For more information:

UNESCO Chair on Nature-Culture Linkages in Heritage Conservation

<http://nc.heritage.tsukuba.ac.jp/UNESCO-Chair/>

Join us at the Advisory Bodies Side Events Space on Monday June 25, 2018 at 14.10